Open, Transparent and Public Decision Making

SMMA is employing a number of innovative communication techniques in the development of your Comprehensive Long-Term Master Educational and Facilities Plan. First, we are making planning decisions in “real time” in open public forums. The “roundtable workshop” format is intended to break down any hierarchy and be a place where everyone advocates for the students and education from the perspective of the total city. The results of this planning process are being published on the school district’s website incrementally as they are produced in first draft unedited versions. Here, the intent is to get the information out as soon as possible to keep the public informed and invite everyone to help edit and perfect both the product and the process.

Going forward, you will find a running log of the Plan’s sections here with an indication of its status. In the end, we will assemble all the sections into a document which all the citizens have the potential to contribute and take ownership.

Please join us by providing input to the process and help us perfect “your Master Plan”.
